NASHVILLE, Aug. 25.—The Speaker ship of the next House has been discussed in your paper, and certain gentlemen have been suggested as fitted for the position. We hout intending to disparage them, I would suggest the Hon. B. A. Ealoe, of Carroll, as a gentleman eminently fitted to preside over the next House, by his large parliamentary experience, moral character, and uniform courtesy of manner. The writer of this frequently saw Mr Enloe in the Chair during the several sessions of the outgoing Legislature, where he presided with dignity, and conducted the business of the body with ease, readiness and dispatch. Gentlemen desiring to transact the public business and return to their homes, will have no occasion, should he be chosen, to blame their Speaker for any waste of the seventy five days allowed them for business, nor for want of devotion to the public OBSERVER.

The quotations of orders contained therein have been submitted to the War Department for ratification. Porter's own acknowledgment of his movements that day, and the reasons therefor, are shown to be quite sufficient evidence of his incapacity or cowardice, if not of something worse.

SHIPWRECK

Off the Coast of Florida

Twenty Lives Lost. NEW YORK, Aug. 25.-C. H Mallory & Co., agents of the Southern Steamship line, received last evening a dispatch from St. Augustine, Fla., announcing the total wreck of their steamer Ladonis, 75 miles from that place, and the loss of 20 of her crew. The survivors are: the Captain's son, and first and second mates, the chief engineer, first assistant engineer, firemen, four head cooks and mess boy. The Ladonia sailed from this port for New Orleans on Saturday, 13th inst., and was undoubtedly wrecked in the gale of the 16th inst. She was an iron steamer of about 800 tons burthen. Her cargo was a full one of assorted merchandise, amounting in value to at least $200,000, which is doubtless a total loss.

CHARLESTON. Reported Yellow Fever Epidemic.

WILMINGTON, August 25 .- For two days past we have had reported here that yellow fever prevailed in Charleston. Information received to-day removes all doubt as to its existence there and it is fesred in epidemic form.

A letter received this forenoon from one of the most prominent clergymen of Charleston states that the malignant type of yellow fever is there and that the writer has himself seen four cases. Information from another sources states the disease is there and it is thought to be spreading. The city authorities of Wilmington telegraphed to the Mayor of Charleston for information yesterday but received no answer.

Notwithstanding the above testimony, Charleston papers of yesterday say the health of the city never was better.

BEN BUTLES.

His Differences with the Repub lican Party.

Gen. Hawley Denounces Him as a Liar and Blackguard.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 24 .- Gen Butler addressed a large audience at the City Hall this evening. He said: Al-though Republican after the straitest sect, I am called upon to defend myself by newspapers calling themselves Republican, from unheard charges. [Hisses and applause.]

Gen. Butler went on to say that he expected abuse from the Democratic press, but why should Republican papers malign and abuse him? Because he led the first troops through Springfield and Annapolis Washington? or because he brought back the first thousand of prisoners from Hatteras? or handled the traitors at New Orleans? or refused to swing around the circle with Andy Johnson? or managed his impeachment? or, later, buried his (Butler's) difference with President Grant, with whom he had some cause of differences or had, in the Reconstruction Committee, insisted on protection for the oyal men of the South? And yet, said Butler, they would read me out of the Republican party. That fellow who ran away when he got John Brown into trouble, and would testify before the Senate of the United States in favor-

General Butler was here interrupted by Mr. Sanborn, one of the editors of the Republican, who asked if Mr. Butler referred to him. Mr. Butler answered, "I do."

Mr. Sanborn replied, amid great conusion, "that statement is false." Butler then yelled, "Why d'd you run out of a back door, and leave your sister to face a man?" Sanborn attempted to reply amid yells of "Pat him out!" 'Speech!" and the audience being wild with excitement; but Sanborn was finally refused a hearing. After quiet had been restored, Butler reiterated his assertion at length, and said that twenty five years ago he had a personal collision with Warrington, the Boston correspondent of the Springfield Republican, and had been abused by him since, and because he had in New York put the owner of the Republic in Ludlow street jail nobody by the name of Butler can get fair play in that paper. As for the Hartford Courant, that paper maligned him because he (Butlet) displaced Gen. Hawley from his command for inefficiency and inc mpetency. The Boston Journal abused him because of his speeches. Jewell, who wants to be Governor, is one of the trustees of Rogers, and the Sumner Republican Journal

They can compel the State to do its duty in this behalf, and give to abor its rights and restrain capital within the bounds of its privileges. Mr. Butler also spoke at length on the state of the finance, and in the course of his remarks took occasion to allude to the editor of the Springfield Republican as his vindictive and mendacious opponent for the office of chief executive of the Commonwealth. He asserted that while he (Butler) and his comrades were in the field fighting for the Union. that gentleman remained at home vilifying others better than himself. Butler condemned the extravagance of the system of governing the State by Boards and Commissions, and said it must be reformed. This could be done inside of the Republican party, but if it is not so done it will be by the people of the Commonwealth irrespective of party. One set of men, said Builer have ruled in these matters in your state-house substantially for more than twelve years, ever increasing in their demands for places and pay. The Boston Advertiser's enmity was accounted for by his (Butler's) threat to sue that paper for libelling Anna Dickinson, when she, a poor, friendless girl, gave her first lecture in Boston. He had concluded to do so, would announce it openly and boldly, and not get a committee of damn rum taverns somewhere to say it for him. The remainder of Butler's speech was devoted to an attack on the Massachusetts Board of Charities and a lengthy discussion of the labor and tariff ques-

The Italian Celebration The Customhouse War.

Italian Unity. New York, Aug. 25 — The celebration in honor of Italian unity took place to day. The procession moved from Fourteenth street shortly after 10 o'clock. A drizzling rain was then falling, which in half an hour became a perfect deluge, accompanied with frequent peals of thun-der. There was no interference or disturbance. The procession marched down the Bowery, passed the City Hall, proceeded up Broadway to Fourteenth street weere it was disbanded.

The procession, as it ended, presented a sorry spectacle, despite the cheering of the processionists and the inspiring strains of the musicians. The triumphal car, which bore "Roma Antiqua" was almost a wreck. Its can-"Roma opy had been carried away by one of the telegraph wires along the Bowery, and the whole structure rocked to and fro like a weather-cock. The pedestrians in the parade were besmeared with mud and soaked with rain. Some surprise was manifeste l at the non appearance of the militia regiments invited to attend. When the procession disbanded, numerous cars were in waiting to convey all who wished to go to Sultzer's East River Park, where the remainder of the day will be spent in festivities of different kinds, including an address by Signor Corradi, the singing of national hymns, sack racing, etc. In addition to the festivities, it is intended to present Signor Nestor Corradi, the president of the general committee on Italian celebration, with a valuable gold medal in token of friendship, and in admiration of his noble qualities and the great good he has done in this country for the cause of Italian unity.

ST JOHNS, N. B.

The Renforth Inquest. Sr. Johns, Aug. 24.—The inquest on Renforth's body was resumed this morning. John J. Wilton deposed that after Renforth was placed in bed, Kelly and the two chambers being also present, I asked Renforth what was the matter; have you had a fit? He said ob! no, its not a fit, I'll tell you all. After that he breathed very hard and became slightly delirious. Brandy was administered which gave him temporary relief. Shortly before his death he spoke again: Oh! my poor wife and poor Harry, meaning Kelley. Froth came to his mouth with mucus. He changed color, his jaws set, and he was dead. The witness stated that Renforth was an excitable man, of temperate habits, but when over excited was subject to apoplectic fits. Renforth said to Kelley when first attacked on the boat: Ab, Harry, I have had something given The examination is not yet con-

McMinnville and Manchester Hailroad—Another Motion for the Dis-solution of Another Injunction— Argumeni before Chanceller East. Chancellor East yesterday heard argue ment on a motion to dissolve the injure tion by the B. J. Hill Board to prevent the Huggins Board taking possession of the McMinnville and Manchester Railroad. This is a struggle as to the legality of the two Boards, and the argument embraced in it necessarily has considerable reference to the history of the two Boards, how each came into existence, its rights of property, etc. The lawyers speaking yesterday upon the motion to dissolve the injunction granted B. J. Hill and associates, were Capt. S E Carnes, S. N. Berger, Esq., and Judge Tillman in behalf of the Huggins Board, while H. H. Harrison, Jordan Stokes and F. M. Smith, Esqs., represented the side of the Hill Board. The argument closed at a late hour in the evening, when Chancellor East stated that he would on Monday next render a written opinion as to the points involved. The Markethouse Question. Citizens who visit the Markethouse today, will observe in its crowded condition and unseemly appearance, a convictor argument against the continued existence of people, it seems must ultimately be left the questions, shall stitution. The present City Council seems his wife to sleep in the same room, but the Rome (Ga.) Commercial knows of some wives who would make it unhealthy for their husbands to sleep anywhere else.

Blenk Iron, and String's Boaster. This as those who own real estate, severest and will, probably, prove fatal as those who own real estate, for both are alike tax-payers—must say the parties were not under the influence of liquor—it was a sober fight. Such are the perplexing markethouse question. It is worthy of their early and serious attention.

THE CITY At Triume.

The picnic and bran dance at Triune on Thursday was a good affair. It is esti-mated that there were fully one thousand persons present, all of whom passed a most agreeable day. Jordan McGowan's bar i from this city was engaged, and with fine music, the dancing was greatly enjoyed and the affair passed off in the most enjoy-

The Old Theaire. Mr. G. S. Grey has secured the old Theatre, and intends opening at an early day a first class company. In order, however, to succeed in his enterprise, he wants the cordial co-operation of our citizens, first in the way of subscriptions, and afterwards that kind of patronage that a good company and attractive programmes merit. Mr. Greet is willing to invest his capital in this legitima's place of smusement, and hopes to be met at least half way by those who would foster and encourage the drama, and build up a temple that would do credit to the city. Taken Back to Decatur. D. R Snelling, who is charged with robbing the mail at Decatur, Ala., of $300, and who arrived here Thursday evening just in time to be arrested and sent to jail for the night, was yesterday sent back to the scene of his former triumphs and temptations in charge of a Government officer. If able to establish his innocence, as he says he will be, Mr. Snelling will be released, and only have occasion to regret the temporary inconve-nience and odium which this little rough experience has thrown into his otherwise smooth and brilliant pathway. The force of men engaged in clearing the channel of the river at the old bridge site of the obstructions caused by the re-mains of the bridge piliars are still dili-gently at work. The force of powder was was yesterday called into requisition in order to facilitate the removal of a big rock bed leading out from this side of the river. The fact of the men being so engaged in this work has given rise to the inference on the part of those not better informed on the subject, that preparations are already being made for commencing the construction of the proposed free bridge. Such preparations are being made, but for the present relate only to procuring the finances necessary to accomplishing the highly-important and muchneeded public enterprise of a free bridge. Important Railroad Suit.

The Lebanon Press of yesterday has the ollowing: It is thought that the celebrated injuneion railroad trial will come off at Carthage Smith county, Tenn., before many days. As we understand the issue, the qualified voters of Smith county gave a legal maprity vote in favor of issuing $300,000 in Smith county bonds to the Tennessee and Pacific Railroad, in order to extend said road to Carthage. At this stage of the proceedings, some of the citizens obtained an injunction to prevent the carrying out of the will of the majority of the voters, giving heavy bond to indemnify the road in case any damage is caused by the injunc tion. The question now to be determined is, as we understand it, "shall there be s permanent injuction to prevent the road from getting the bonds, or shall the inunction be dissolved, and the bonds go into the hands of the Directors of the road?" If the assertions we hear made in regard to the status of the affair are stricty correct, there is no question but what the bonds will be issued. And it the Ten-nessee and Pacific Railroad gains this suit, the shrill whistle of the "iron horse" will be heard over the hills and along the valleys of old Smith in a few months PENITENTIARY OUTBREAK.

One of the Guards Brutally As saulted-A Diabolical Piot Dis-About 12 o'clock, on Thursday night last, two of the prisoners confined in the penttentiary called the guard up to their cell and complained to him of being very ill. Mr. O'Donnell, the guard, listened to their appeals, and released them from the cell. As soon as out in the yard they made a furious assault on the guard, one using a hammer, and the other having something like a slung-shot. They battered him over the head and shoulders, which were badly cut and bruised. Mr. O'Donnell being a very stout man, he was able to cope with them, and had them nearly com pletely overpowered, when another guard made his appearance, and the prisoners ran to their cell. It was afterwards a certained that they had formed a plot which, if it had succeeded, at least one-third of the convicts would have been released. Mr. O'Donnell had only gone on duty the day previous, and being a new hand at the business, they determined upon the course pursued, thinking no doubt that he would be the best man to approach with the plea of sickness, but in attempting to overpower him, they found in him a match for at least two of their sort. Although badly hurt, he was able to do duty yesterday. It is understood that the prisoners will be turned over to the courts, and upon the charge of attempted murder they will be tried, and it convicted, will receive an additional sentence. DESPERATE AFFAIR.

nold's old grocery, on Tucker's creek, in this county, on Thursday last. The ciroumstances, as communicated to us, are substantially as tollows: A man named Dotson, it seems, had parted from his wife about three years ago, and she had since been receiving the attention of a young man. Early last week, Dotson and the young man met at a revival at Shady Grove, when an altercation took place be tween them, in which one McCrary volunteered a part against Dotson. A day or so later McCrary and Dotson accidently met, when the former drew a pistol and made the latter get on his knees and beg for his life. On Thursday last McCeary went to the house of Mr. Peck, where Dotson was boarding, entered the door, and passed through a rear room. Dotson, seeing him coming closed the inner door; McCrary pushed it open, drew a repeater and fired, wounding Dotson at the inner corner of the right eye, and again above the same eye, the shock the institution in its present form. To the causing him to fall to his knees. Wiping people, it seems must ultimately the blood away that was blinding him, the postpone further operations until to-morrow. In this four heats were trotted, Gen. Howard 2, Barney 1 and Transit 1, old one be repaired, or shall we try the abdomen, who then retreated to the yard where Dotson shot him again, and still again as he climbed the lence to escape. When Dotson fired the last time his brains were oozing from his wounds, and he fell convenience. Troy, Tenn. Dr. A. Crane's Lecture. This eminent gentleman and able lec-turer, will deliver a free lecture this evening at the Oid Theater, a postponement of the one announced for the Masonic Hall last evening, being necessitated by repairs going on there. The Doctor's skill and reputation in medical science is worldwide. 'He is the founder in America, says the New Orleans Times, of the Brampton Inhalation Treatment for the throat and lungs." The Southern Medical Reformer "Of all the names connected with the science of medicine and surgery, to the present day, none stand more conspicuous none deserve more honor than Dr. Orane. With him science is to the character and constitution of man, what comparative anatomy was to animals in the hands of Cuvier, or to plants with M. Ad. Brogniers. Dr. C. has discovered the relation of all the laws that relate to man, and made bimself complete master of them. Science, as taught and practiced by him, has preeminent claims upon our attention and re-gard. His scientific lectures and demonstrations are of the highest order. We regard Dr. C. not only as one of our greatest physicians, but a naturalist not infe to Cuvier or Bregniert." He gives a free lecture again to morrow evening at 3 o'clock, upon the Holy Land, whence he has just returned.

Good News for the Little Ones. The improvements which have been in progress in the basement of the Cathedral the past three weeks, are nearly completed, and the children will asse their chapel on Sunday morning, as formerly. The chapel has been so enlarged as to furnish sitting room for about four hundred and fifty children. It has been thoroughly renovated, papered, painted, and "fixed up" generally, so as to be scarcely recognizable—in short (and the long and short of it) it's all new. So, boys and airls, be on hand early,
